

What's Going On In NYC This Week — June 15 – 24

jewishweek.timesofisrael.com/whats-going-on-in-nyc-this-week-june-15-24

By Robert Goldblum and Sandee Brawarsky

Your guide to upcoming Jewish-y events in New York.

TASTE OF JEWISH CULTURE

Carrying the alliterative theme of “Diversity is Delicious,” the Workmen’s Circle’s annual Jewish food and culture bash celebrates immigrants’ contributions to cuisine. The fare, as you might expect, is daring: reuben quesadillas, Yemeni tacos, babka ice-cream sandwiches and sweet potato and beet latkes. Ben’s Kosher Deli, Harlem Seafood Soul, Danny Macaroons and other purveyors of food and drink will be there. Aaron Alexander and the Klezmer All-Stars and the cast of the Folksbiene’s Yiddish production of “Fiddler” perform. And, since it’s Father’s Day, all dads get a free egg cream! — Sunday, June 17, 11 a.m.-6 p.m., Sixth Avenue between 48th and 49th streets, <http://circle.org/event/taste-jewish-culture-street-festival>.

To publish events, submit them to jewishweekcalendar@gmail.com two weeks or more in advance. We cannot guarantee inclusion due to space limitations. Since scheduling changes may occur, we recommend contacting the venue before heading out to an event.