

Eats and drinks

Published Jun 7, 2018 at 6:29 pm (Updated Jun 8, 2018)

Indulging in the tastes of summer.

Hungry for diversity

Taste of Jewish Culture Street Festival

Free

June 17, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Sixth Avenue, between 48th and 49th streets

circle.org/event/taste-jewish-culture-street-festival

Ben's Kosher Deli, a premiere New York dining experience, is the headliner at this annual event. The theme this year is from the Workmen's Circle, which presents the event: "Diversity is Delicious." Expect proof at this mashup, which includes non-Jewish establishments putting their best Jewish spin on traditional dishes. Since it's Father's Day, the plan is for dads to get a free egg cream. Family-friendly activities, dancing and musical performances round out the day.
